Indian Account

The Indian history of this valley centers about the Norridgewock tribe at Old Point in the southwest corner of the town of Madison. There had been for many generations a contest between the Indians and the English in Maine. When Father Rasle, the French missionary, came to Old Point in 1695, the contest for supremacy became more bitter as Rasle was not only desirous of having the Indians continue to hold the territory along the Kennebec, but wanted to hold the English at bay until the French should assume control. The Indian, tossed between the surges of hatred that rolled between the English and the French, was destined to destruction. That destruction came in the month of August, 1724, when the English Captain Harmon at the head of two hundred armed men arrived at Old Point and recklessly shot, pillaged, and burned the beautiful Indian village. Rasle was shot and scalped, with a large number of his dusky converts. The Catholic chapel was burned. Men, women, children were ruthlessly slaughtered. The tribe was forever broken up. The most of the last of the famous Norridgewocks gathered about the Catholic mission, at St. Francis, Quebec. A few located along the banks of the Sandy river, but at the approach of the whites, all save Pierpole, a famous Indian chief of Franklin county, fled to parts unknown. The sad fate of the Norridgewocks has brought forth from the pen of Poet and Historian many a line. All mourn the unhappy end of the gallant and enthusiastic missionary who labored so zealously to establish the Christian faith in the hearts of the red-skinned children of nature. All mourn the loss of home which befel the Norridgewocks, but we can only say it was one of the inevitable results of the progress of civilization.

Early Settlement

The town of Solon was first settled in 1782 and was one of the leading towns in the county for many years. At an early date the great fertility of the lands along the Kennebec became well known and movements were made to improve them. Solon was well up in the valley where the width was less but had many of the fine farms so common to the region below. So far as we have been able to learn William Hilton was the first white settler. He came to Solon in the summer of 1782 and made a clearing and built his log cabin. He returned to Anson to spend the winter with a brother who lived there. In the following year he came back with his wife and son, David, when he made his permanent settlement on Lot 17. This was the first permanent settlement in town. Mr. Hilton come from Wiscassett. His two brothers settled just north of Patterson Bridge.

This same spring William Hunnewell settled here. He took up a lot which has since been divided. The old Hunnewell homestead is now the property of Zina Norton. This was a hundred acre lot.

Not far from this time Luther Pierce settled on a lot between lots 26 and 25. This place is now owned by Sarah B. Pierce. The next lot of 100 acres below this one was taken up at about the same time by Jonathan Bosworth. It is now occupied by Fred Magoon.

Eleazar Whipple, one of the settlers who were here prior to 1784, settled on Lot 25 now the property of Alfreda B. Withington.

Next to Mr. Whipple and at about the same time came Moses Chamberlain on Lot 24. This lot has also been divided. The north half is now owned by Joseph C. and George B. Pierce. The south half is now the property of Charles Clark.

Moses Thompson also settled on a lot of one hundred acres now owned by Hiram C. Rice.

Other Early Settlers.

Josiah French came from Saulisbury, Mass., in 1800 and settled on what is locally known as French Hill. His grandson Josiah French lives there today. Moses French who came from the same place as Josiah settled also on French Hill in 1802, took up the lot adjoining Josiah French's. Nicholas Smith settled near the town line of Bingham and Solon a little to the east of the river. John, Silas, and Simon Maynard settled on the river road in 1802. Not far from this time Moses and Samuel Eaton came from Saulisbury and took up lots on what is now known as Eaton Hill, about four miles east of the village. Benjamin Merrill who was also from Saulisbury, Mass., came to Solon at an early date and settled east of French Hill. Matthew Sanborn settled on Fall Brook about one mile northeast from the village. He was from Massachusetts.

These settlers were allowed the above mentioned lots in the survey made by Samuel Weston in 1791. The settlers lots beside the above were as follows: David Pierce, Lot No. 27 of 200 acres lying wholly in the town of Bingham. On this lot at this time there was a house. David Pierce the owner was a single man and lived with his brother; Calvin Pierce on the lot next below. Mrs. Flavilla Jewett now owns the place.

Calvin Pierce was assigned in the survey the lot which is now the property of Henry F. Maynard.

To Moses Ayer Island "H" in the Kennebec river containing 88 acres was set off. He also had a small island west of "Island H" containing five acres, "of no great value execpt to guard the large island."

To William Hilton in addition to the Lot 17 was allotted Island "D" of 18 acres adjoining the front of Lot 17. Mr. Weston's return says "This Island will accomodate Lot 17 well."

The above gives in brief the information available concerning the earliest comers to the town of Solon. Before we continue farther it is perhaps well to consider the circumstances which led to the settlement and survey of the town and the dissentions which followed and which are of interest to every citizen of the town.

After the close of the Revolutionary War, even the boundary lines of Massachusetts and her sister states were not entirely settled.

There was a controversy between Massachusetts and New York over the line between them. The line was run and it was found that certain lands granted by Massachusetts to settlers in the town of Groton laid within the bounds of New York. Hence the grant was void, and these settlers had no claims on the lands above mentioned.

On Februrary 18, 1791 the General Court of Massachusetts passed a resolve on Petition of James Prescott in behalf of the proprietors of the town of Groton praying compensation may be made them for land lost by running the line between this commonwealth and the state of New York.

Whereupon 6500 acres of land were laid out on the south side of what was later the town of Solon bounded on the north by a line parallel with the south line of the town, and so far distant therefrom as to include 6,500 acres exclusive of 500 acres laid off to settlers by Samuel Weston and reserved for them. The land conveyed by this resolve was subsequently deeded to Thomas Spaulding, et al. This deed with the settlers lots covered the south 7000 acres of the town of Solon.

On the twenty-fourth of January, 1792 for the reason given above there was granted to Palmer Gardener et al, proprietors of Groton 3880 acres of land in Solon, bounded on south by land granted to Thomas Spaulding, et al, and on north by a line parallel to and three miles distant from the south line of the town exclusive of four lots of 160 acres each reserved for public uses, viz: one for the first settled minister, one for the use of the ministry, one for the use of schools in the said township and one for the future appropriation of government, to be laid out near the center of the township and to average in goodness with the other lots therein.

Including the public lots this grant contained 4520 acres and was bounded on the south by the land granted to Thomas Spaulding et al.; and on the north by a line running east from the Kennebec River parallel to and three miles distant from the south line of the town.

There was a similar controversy between the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the state of New Hampshire over the state line, Massachusetts having granted to Thomas Stevens et al. certain lands in the town of Warner which were afterwards found to be in the state of New Hampshire. To compensate them for the loss of their land there was granted to Jonathan Barnard et al. a tract of land six miles in length and three miles in breadth from any of the unappropriated lands in the counties of Lincoln, Hancock, or Washington. Pursuant to the grant there was deeded to Jonathan Barnard and others the north half of the town of Solon, bounded on the south by a line parallel to and three miles distant from the south line of the town, reserving four lots of land equal in quality with the rest of 160 acres each for public uses, viz., one for the first settled minister, one for the use of the ministry, one for the use of the schools, and one for the future appropriation of the General Court.

There was also reserved in the deed to Barnard et al. to Calvin Pierce, Eleazar Whipple and Moses Chamberlain, settlers on settlers lots, so called, 200 acres each, and to Luther Pierce, Moses Thompson and Jonathan Bosworth 100 acres each. The said Luther Pierce and Moses Thompson, who were settlers since the year 1784 paying each of them the grantees in the resolve $20 and the said Jonathan Bosworth a settler before the year 1784 paying them $5.00.

Apparently the two deeds of the south half to the proprietors of Groton were treated by them as one grant. They first sold to John Ware 3672 acres from the west end of their grant, bounded on the west by the river, on the east by a line at right angles to the south line of the town and far enough east to include the above mentioned number of acres.

In 1792 the north half was surveyed and lotted into 80 acre lots by Benjamin Poor. That part of the south half belonging to Spaulding, Gardener and others was lotted by Daniel Steward into 160 acre lots.

Subsequently the southwest part of the town sold to John Ware et al. was surveyed and lotted by Eleazar Coburn. Neither Benjamin Poor nor Daniel Steward had the authority to run the division line between the owners of the north and south halves. Both ran their range lines east and west parallel to the township lines. Poor working from the north line and Steward working from the south line. The ranges were intended to be one half a mile wide so that Poor ran his south range line two and a half miles distant from the north line of the town.

Steward intended to have done the same thing but his chainmen missed a tally in each of the first and fourth ranges so his north range line which should have been two and a half miles north from the south line of the town was actually run forty rods farther north. The proprietors of the halves of the town evidently supposing that each owned one half of it agreed that Daniel Steward should run the division line.

In 1802 Daniel Steward measured from the south line to the north line of the town and run a line in the center from east to west, and found the town to be from south to north six miles and forty rods.

Meanwhile the owners of the south tier of lots in the north half and the north tier of lots in the south half each owning as they supposed a half mile north and south had found that between Poor's south range and Steward's north range line there was, just a mile, had caused a line to be run east and west across the town midway between the two range lines for the bounds of their respective lots. Owing to the mistake made by Steward in his survey this division line was twenty rods north of the division line run by Steward in 1802.

By the terms of their grant, the proprietors of the north half were to leave for public uses four lots of 160 acres each. On apportioning the land among themselves they lacked land for the public lots. About this time they apparently discovered their grant extended south to a line three miles distant from the south line of the town which would be twenty rods south of the division line run by Steward in 1802.

Subsequently the proprietors of the north half discovered that the agreement under which Steward ran the division line in 1802 was a mistake on their part. Instead of owning to the center of the town they owned to a line three miles north of the south line. In 1811 they employed John G. Neal to run the line division true. Neal's line was twenty rods south of the line run by Steward.

The town of Solon was incorporated in 1809 and in 1813 the town petitioned the Circuit Court of Common Pleas at Norridgewock praying that a committee be appointed to designate and set off the several lots of land reserved in the original grants for the use of the said town and for public uses. Whereupon E. Coburn, Elihu Bowerman, and William Sylvester were appointed as a committee to locate the public lots.

The Forty Rod Strip.

There were three hundred and twenty acres lacking in the north half for public uses, and the committee relying upon the wording of the original grant set of the east four miles of the forty rod strip lying between the line twenty rods north of Steward's center line and a line twenty rods south of it, which was run by the committee or had been run by some person now unknown since Steward ran his Center line in 1802. The owners of the lots in the south half of the town adjoining these public lots had been deeded lots measuring 160 rods north and south. They were bounded on the south by Steward's north range line and the one hundred and sixty rods deeded them included the public lots. So when these two public lots were laid out it took from the adjoining settlers on the south a strip of land forty rods wide and four miles long. This was deemed by them to be a great hardship and was in after times a cause of much controversey and several lawsuits. The influence of the ancient settlers in town affairs was such that the town asserted no claim to the school lots or the forty rod strip for more than 35 years. About 1850 the trustees of the school fund asserted their claim and the adjoining owners paid small amounts into the school fund of the town to buy up their titles.

Church Account

Organization—Pastors.

Methodist Episcopal Church.

For many years Solon was included in Norridgewock Circuit and was reguarly visited by the preachers from that place, but the early records have been lost so that we have a meagre record of the work that was done, until 1805 when Daniel Ricker was the pastor. At that time a great revival swept over the town. It still continued a part of Norridgewock Circuit until as late as 1830 when it was set off from the former, and Rev. E. Hotchkiss was the preacher in charge. The union meeting house (now known as the Congregational church) was built in 1837, the Methodists owning one-fourth of it and occupying it one-fourth of the time. In 1858 the Methodists decided to have preaching in the village half of the time; and to this end they hired the town hall for meetings one-fourth of the time. In 1859 they built their present house of worship. The church building has been greatly improved by putting in steel ceilings and several memorial windows. Several preachers and preachers' wives have gone out from this church and are doing a grand work in the Master's vineyard. The church now numbers 63 resident members with a goodly number on probation. The Sunday School has an average attendence of nearly fifty and is in a very prosperous condition.

The following persons have served the church as pastors in the order in which they are given: E. Hotchkiss, 1831; M. Lufkin, 1832; M. Ward, 1833; O. Bent, 1834; M. Wight, 1837; M. Brown, 1838; H. Congregational Church.

On September 30, 1806 a Congregationalist church society was organized in Solon. Eleazer Whipple, Thomas Merrill, Calvin Pierce, Deborah Pierce, and Elizabeth Rowe were the original members. Later the organization was merged into a church at South Solon. From 1811 till 1819 this society joined with the one at the Upper Settlement as Bingham was then known. This union was dissolved in 1809.

On Janurary 25, 1842 a branch of the church at South Solon was organized into a separate society at Solon. Its members were Timothy Spaulding, Silas Maynard, Nancy Spaulding, Sally Varnum, Lucy Maynard. Bathsheba Maynard, Mary Morse, Joseph Maynard, Lucinda Pierce and Docas Bosworth. The meeting house at Solon Village was erected in 1837. It was owned by the Baptist, Congregationalists, Methodists and Universalists in equal shares.

The pastors have been the following: Cyrus Stone, January 22, 1842 to August 31, 1844; Henry Smith, September 1, 1844, December 25, 1845; Levi Loring supplied till September 1, 1846; Sidney Turner, September 1, 1846, June 22, 1856; George W. Mercantile Account

Mr. Edmund Coolidge has kindly given us the following data regarding the merchants and their place of business in the history of the town of Solon. Mr. Elisha Coolidge and a Mr. Rouse came here and traded together. Mr. Coolidge came from Hallowell, and Rouse from Boston. These men continued in business at this place for upwards half a century. Their place of business was a little above the residence of Edmund Coolidge.

B. Boise came here from Skowhegan many years ago and kept hotel, and a store on the present site of Cyrus Hunnewell's residence. Cyrus Tibbetts and Chandler Knights came here from Bingham and traded in a store on the site where the house of Mr. Fred Curtis now sits. Theodore Smith came from Waterville and traded where Edmund Coolidge now has his office. Samuel Gage came from Madison and was in partnership for a time with Theodore Smith. A Mr. Spaulding came from Anson and traded in a store on the same site as the store where Moses Townsend now trades. Jacob Lowell came from Concord, Maine and traded in the same store as Spaulding. Sumner Webb came from Anson and traded in the same place where Mr. Coolidge's office is located. Hezekiah Dodge and Samuel Gage were in business together for a time. Dodge came from Hedgecomb, Maine.

Edmund Coolidge came from Livermore Center, Maine. His place of business was near the place where his present residence is.

William Rowell, Asa Hickory, Herbert Moore, Joseph Buswell, Absalom Parkman, Levi Rowell, John Batchelder, James Pierce, B. H. Durrell, William Lowell, Jonathan Lowell, Frank Rowell, Elijah Grover and Joshua Gray together with the present ones make up the greater number of Solon's merchants.

Manufacturing Account.

The manufacturing history of the town of Solon begins at an early date. It seems that early owners of this territory in the north half of the town were desirous of establishing settlers upon the different lots and found that it was necessary to have provided mills for the manufacture of lumber and the grinding of grain, in order to induce settlers to locate. At a meeting of the proprietors of the north half on March 6, 1793, there was voted to one Joseph Jones, Jr., six lots of land, "On condition that he the said Joseph Jones, Jr., doth give a bond of reasonable sum with two good bondsmen that he will build and complete a saw mill and a grist mill and settle four settlers on the said half township within three years from the last day of January, 1793, he being the highest bidder." So far as we have been able to learn, Mr. Jones was unable to fullfil his contract. Undoubtedly in about 1793-4 Calvin Pierce built the first mills about fifteen rods above the point where the present dam is located on Fall Brook. The first dam was remodeled in about twelve years from the time it was built, it was removed and the dam which occupied the site of the present one was built. Several freshets have destroyed the dams built at different times at this point. Moses Campbell built a saw mill near the present bridge at at the village, and operated it some eight or ten years. William Hobby and David White sometime in the fifties bought the partially destroyed mill of Elijah Grover and removed it to the village on Fall brook at a point a short distance below the present grist mill. This mill was destroyed by a freshet.

Elijah Grover is credited with first developing the power at Carratunk falls. About 1833 he bought the land on the east side at the falls of Jesse Pierce, and two years later he bought of Joseph Spaulding Jr., the land on the west side. The next year a county road was laid out to the end of the completed bridge at the falls. Within a year or two after, Mr. Grover built a saw mill on the west side of the falls, and a grist mill on the east side. He also built the bridge above mentioned about the same time. About 1846 the bridge and grist mill at this point were practically destroyed by a freshet. The saw mill was sold to Stillman Stone who was killed in a fall from the frame while taking down the mill. This power remained practically idle till December 1887, when the privelege was bonded by Staunton Day and David T. Mills. The deal was closed in July following, whereby the property was transferred. In 1889 the pulp mill was under process of construction. It was opened in 1891. Seven years later Day and Mills failed, and the bondholders took possession and in February 1898 the property was conveyed to the Moosehead Co. On the first day of April of this year Hon. Turner Buswell as superintendent, started the mill. The International Paper Co. assumed ownership of the mill in 1899. Mr. Buswell continued to superintend the mill till July 1900. He was succeeded by Joseph S. D. Greene the present superintendent. This industry has been of untold benefit to the community round about and should be appreciated.

The Grist mill owners at the village have been the following so far as we have been able to learn. Calvin Pierce, William Fletcher, Asa Buswell, Joseph P. Buswell, Greenleaf C. Randlette, Baker & Stuart. Other industries have been Allen B. Wilson, carding and cloth dressing, the Solon steam mill Co., and the Solon

Creamery Co., of which special mention should be made as it is one of the most important industries to the agricultural classes in particular, that is to be found in this section. This company was organized June 17, 1893, and the same fall its building was completed. The manufacture of butter was begun the following year. Its capital is $10,000 largely in the hands of business men of Solon village, though some of the farmers hold some of the stock. The plant at Solon cost $5,000. The company operates creameries at Norridgewock, Harmony and Palermo. The officers of the corporation are as follows: Selden F. Greene, president; Perry S. Longley, secretary and treasurer, Leon S. Merrill, manager.

Professional Men

Physicians

The first physician that located at Solon was Mortimer Bodwell. He located in the house known as the Luther Pierce house where Mrs. John L. Pierce now resides. Dr. Parsons was here not far from two years, and went to St. Albans. Dr. Houghton was here not far from four years. Dr. Stevens practiced in this place four or five years. Dr. Kingsman was here in practice for a few years. Dr. Hunnewell now at Madison, practiced successfully for a time at this place. Dr. J. Moore began practice here in 1860, and has been in practice since that time. Dr. Moore has won an enviable reputation as a successful combatant of diphtheria, being first in this region to cope with this dread disease.

Solon is especially well supplied today with medical talent of a high order, her physicians being Dr. Moore, above mentioned, Dr. S. F. Greene, well known as a fine surgeon, Dr. C. A. Schools.

If there is one thing that is a greater source of pride to the citizens of Solon than another, it is the public school system that has been built up in the town in the past few years. No one can successfully dispute the justice of this pride for the town has been most heartily interested in the schools and most liberal in supporting them. In 1899 the new school building, a model home for the school was built at a cost of $5.000. That the general public is interested in the welfare and advancement of the schools is seen in the increasing amount appropriated for the common schools, and in the centralization of interests in general. During the past four years the schools of the village have increased in numbers about forty per cent., due to the centralization of the schools of the town into the village schools. Mr. L. S. Merrill has been one of the many who have taken an active interest to build up the schools both in his capacity as a member of the school board as superintendent and as a citizen. The present superintendent is a lady, Mrs. Mildred E. Manson, and the town is perfectly satisfied with her businesslike management of the duties of her office.

Solon, Maine

Census of Solon 1903

We have herewith arranged the population of the towns of Solon and Bingham in families where that arrangement has been possible. In these families, in addition to the resident living members, the names of the non-resident members are included. At the end of the Census of each town will be found these Non-residents with the full names and present addresses, when such names and addresses have been given to the author. The non-residents are indicated by the (*).

The common directory abbreviations have been used to indicate the occupation of the several people in town. These abreviations follow the name. Some of the abbreviations and contractions used are the following:

Farmer—far; carpenter—car; merchant—mer; housework—hw; physician and surgeon—phy & sur; student—stu; etc., etc.

This Census was taken during the summer of 1903 by E. M. Campbell, Kents Hill, Maine.

Bingham Town Register

1903

Early Settlement

The name of the first white man to set foot on the soil of Bingham is unknown. Its situation on the east bank of the river, the line of travel from the lower settlements to Canada leads to the belief that the French missionaries must have been the first to come to this section.

Father Druillette came here not far from 1650, and Father Rasle about 1695. From that time on, the story is a blank till the coming of the whites as claiments of the lands. William Fletcher was the first white settler. He came here from Norridgewock in 1784 and settled on Preble street where Alton B. Carl now resides. Mrs. A. P. Murray, Albert Webster and Eugene Webster are among his descendants. Ephriam Wood, also from Norridgewock came soon after Mr. Fletcher and settled where T. F. Houghton now resides, on the east side of the river a mile below the village. Mr. Wood married a daughter of Joshua Goodrich 2d, whom we shall next mention. They had eight children Lucy, Lydia, Ascenath, Louise, Mary, Martha, Sarah, Samuel. Joshua Goodrich 2d came to Canaan first in his venture into Northern Maine. He remained there some two or three years and came to Bingham. His starting point was Watertown, Mass. He settled on the place now owned by Henry Washburn below the cemetery where he died at the age of 69 from a broken heart. His affliction was the death of his grandson, Joshua Goodrich, age fourteen years, from an accident in a mill owned by the old gentlemen. Mrs. Joshua Goodrich 2d was one of the prime movers in the organization of the Methodist church at this place and also in the building of the Union church. Mr. Goodrich gave the land for the cemetery below the village.

Daniel Foster, one of the very early comers, settled on the place now owned by Orrison Gordon. He died here leaving no children.

Obed Wilson, one of the leading men of Bingham in its earlier years settled in what has been known as the Nelson neighborhood on the river road near the town line of Bingham and Solon. Fred Merrill, now living in town is a descendant from Mr. Wilson.

William Fletcher a relative of the William Fletcher before mentioned, built the oldest house now standing in Bingham village, now owned by Frank and Curren Smith. The first store was kept in this house.

F. G. Williams and Mrs. E. W. Moore are numbered among his descendants.

Edwin Hawes was another early settler.

The Bakers first settled in Moscow, and later came into Bingham. Among the first to settle in Moscow were Captain Nathan Baker, Chandler Baker and Snell Baker. Captain Nathan Baker when he came into Bingham settled on a farm now owned by John Owens, on a part of which the Somerset Railroad station now stands. He had children: Harlow, Samuel, George, Alvah, Alden, Edward, Ephriam, Emily and Julia.

Snell Baker settled in Bingham as proprietor of the hotel which was on the site of what is now known as the Lander tenement house. He later owned the A. P. Murray farm. He had children: Edwin S., Alfred Wellington, Florence and Julia.

Chandler Baker bought the hotel property with the brother before mentioned. He later bought the farm on which James O'Hara now lives. He left no children. This farm was first settled by Ephriam Heald who came from Peterboro, N. H. He built the house now owned by E. W. Moore, and occupied by Edwin Miller. The river road in the early years extended as far as Mr. Heald's place, then to the place occupied by the last Block Factory, then to a point near Herbert Pierce's blacksmith shop.

Eber Baker, the oldest person in town, was ninety one years old the first of November. He was born in Moscow. He came to Bingham in 1851. Emily Hobart of Solon was his wife. Their children were Sylvesta P., Sarah G., Helen M., Columbus S., and Atalanta L., All are living in the village except Helen who died some years ago.

Levi Goodrich, son of Joshua 2d built the first hotel in town and afterwards sold to the Bakers. This same hotel rebuilt and remodeled is owned and occupied by Henry Washburn.

Joshua Goodridge 3d settled on the farm now owned by Granville Goodrich. This place has been in the hands of the Goodrich family about one hundred years. Joshua Goodrich had ten children, Joshua, Jonathan, Seth, Darius, Simon, Wyckliffe, Sylvanus, Persis, Harriett and Saphronia.

John Goodrich, another son of Joshua Goodrich 2d settled on the farm now owned by John Kelley. He was the father of eleven children, Cyrus, Jothan, Calvin, Josiah, Willard, John, Orlando, Simeon, Lewis, and two daughters.

A Levi Goodrich settled on the farm now owned by Sidney T. Goodrich. This farm has remained in the hands of descendants of this family from this time. He had children, Packard, Levi Jr., Joseph, Rebecca and Polly.

Benjamin Goodrich, a son of Joshua Goodrich 2d, settled at first on his father's farm, but afterwards settled at The Forks where he ended his days. They had children, Henry, Robinson, Frank, Augustine, Jonathan, and six girls. He was the first of the Goodrich's to marry a Baker. Their families have interwoven very closely from that time. His wife was Malinda Baker.

Abijah Goodrich another son of Joshua 2d, lived in Bingham for a time on his father's farm but finally moved to Concord on the farm where Walter Garland now lives. He had children, Joshua, Marshall, Levi, Cynthia and Mary.

Lydia Goodrich, a daughter of Joshua Goodrich 2d, married Abel Parlin, a very early settler, and a famous hunter. Polly another daughter, married Joseph Russell. For a time they lived on the place now occupied by Mrs. Martha Rogers. They later moved to Moscow. Their children were Frank, Eliza, Susan and Polly.

Mr. Russell was one of Bingham's early settlers. Calvin Russell came here from Massachusetts, and settled on the farm now owned by Peter Mahoney in the central part of the town. Four daughters of Mr. Russell now reside in Bingham village, viz., Mrs. Lucinda Baker, aged eighty-eight years, Mrs. Cordelia Burke, Mrs. Mary Burke and Miss Lydia Russell.

Mercantile and Manufacturing

MERCANTILE

Ephraim Heald and Levi G. Fletcher are said to have been the first traders in the town of Bingham. The date is fixed about 1815-'17. The first store was in the house next above Mark Savage's store. In 1825 the store now occupied by W. B. Goodrich was built by Levi G. Fletcher and occupied by him until about 1835. About this time William Rowell was doing business in Frank Hunnewell's store as it is now known. W. Parlin traded where Lander's store now stands. Simon Goodrich bought out Levi Fletcher about 1835. He continued here in business during the long period till 1878 when the business fell into the hands of W. B. Goodrich who has it today. William Rowell was succeeded by Joel Colby. Wellington Parlin was succeeded by Benjamin Smith 2d about 1860. Nathan Norton was also a merchant. Roby Sands was in business here for some years. Calvin Colby, Dinsmore & Lander were in trade for a term of years. Colby & Preble after vacating the Post office building, erected the large new block opposite. That firm has since changed to Preble & Robinson and is doing a good business at the present time. In the store where the harness shop now is, there were at different times the following: Abigail Greenwood, Emily Savage, Mark Savage, E. W. Moore, and George L. Baker.

Other firms doing business in Bingham at different times, so far as we have learned, were as follows: Savage & Houghton, Savage & Clark, Mark Savage & Co. Abbey & Dinsmore built Union Hall Block. Some of the firms that have done business in this block are the following: Baker & Bray, Calvin Hunnewell, A. B. Chase, Thompson & Miller, Thompson & Chase, Miller & Dinsmore, Dinsmore & Son, Mr. Bergonzi, A. Dinsmore & Son, A. C. Dinsmore, and Arlie Dinsmore.

John Cummings was also in business in the Goodrich store at one time. He continued less than one year, and was succeeded by W. B. Goodrich. A. S. Burke has been for many years one of Bingham's substantial business men. At the station A. S. Burke & Co. built and ran for several years a feed store and grist mill. This property has since become the property of B. F. Parrott.

Benjamin Smith above mentioned was succeeded by S. A. & A. Dinsmore. Warren Colby and Wellington Baker built the store next to Donigan's. Horatio and L. C. Andrews succeeded Colby & Baker. The firm later became L. C. Andrews. In the store where the Post Office now is T. H. Preble & Co. traded for a time. They were succeeded by Colby & Preble. T. H. Gilman was also in this store in business.

Of the present merchants we must say in justice to them that they are progressive, and are making the most of their opportunity to build up the business side of Bingham. No account would be complete without the mention of such men as J. J. Lander, E. W. Moore Mr. Buck, the genial druggist, A. F. Donigan, and others whose names have appeared in this necessarily brief account.

MANUFACTURING

Bingham has not been able to make a specialty of manufacturing like her sister town, Solon, she has however been favored to a certain extent in this line. Her manufacturies have been nearly all, save the saw and grist mills—always a necessity from the first permanent settlement, through all time—confined to special lines. In this list may be mentioned Baker's Calk business, the Last-Block business, and the Peg Industry.

The Last-Block business was started in Bingham by S. A. Dinsmore and J. J. Lander. The date was 1889. Two years later the Bingham Last-Block Co., was organized here comprising the Dinsmore & Lander Co., and the Fitz Bros. Co., of Durham, Maine. Six years ago Messrs. Dinsmore & Lander sold out to the Fitz Bros. Co., who ran the business till last spring when they dismantled the mill and went out of the business at this place. The same industry is being carried on by Mark Savage and J. J. Lander under the firm name of Lander & Savage. The mills were built on the east bank of the Kennebec river just west from the village.

The Peg mill was built here in 1898 by the McKay Shoe Co., of Boston, Mass., and gave promise of being an important business, but was continued only one year, remaining closed since that time.

The Baker Calk business was started in 1872 by Amon Baker and his brother Cyrus M. Baker, under the firm name of C. M. and A. Baker. The calks have become so well known in all regions where lumbering is carried on to any extent that no explanation is needed. The Baker's made the square shanked calk so-called at first by the use of hand hammers. The plant first used by the company on Austin Stream about a half a mile above Bingham village. Amon Baker invented a trip hammer for the more rapid manufacture of calks thus increasing the amount of the output a great deal. By various other improvements and enlargements of the plant the output was increased from 7,000 in 1872 to 7,000,000 in 1892. The patents were taken out in 1879. This same year a new fatcory was built two miles farther up the stream. Its total cost including boarding house, stable etc., was $15,000. The crew worked by the concern was about 30 men, operating the plant day and night. In 1882 C. M. Baker sold to A. Baker his interests in the concern. About this time Ephraim Witham of Carratunk began the manufacture of the same kind of calks, infringing on the Baker patents. Not far from this time Mr. Baker took S. A. Dinsmore and Calvin Colby into the concern as partners. Later Mr. Baker retired from the concern for good reasons. Later the concern was merged into a trust including five other concerns. The contest over the patent was waged for some time but unsuccessfully on the part of Messrs. Dinsmore & Colby.

The factory is not now in operation, the calks are now being made elsewhere. Mr. Baker invented most of the machinery that was in use by the concern and it is considered by experts to be most practical and effective.

Mr. Baker has produced many inventions, and is now starting a business of making an improved calk which bids fair to make a business the equal of the old industry.

A saw mill that is of recent date is located at Badger's Siding on the Somerset Railroad about half way between Solon and Bingham. It is now owned and operated by E. J. Russell. It does a good business in long and short lumber and shingles.

Church Account

CONGREGATIONAL.

The church history of the town of Bingham begins at an early date—in the year 1805—when the Congregationalist society was organized. In this society there were three men and five women, viz., Joseph Bussell, Ephraim Wood, Josiah Heald, Sarah Fletcher, Bridget Heald, Betsey Bussell, Allis Whipple, and Lephe

Wood. The society was formed under the leadership of the Rev. Jotham Sewall. Thirty-two years later the first church in Bingham was built. The structure is the present Methodist church. The church was a Union church and the house was owned by people in Bingham, Concord and Moscow. It contained fifty-two pews, each owner of one pew having the privilege of having whom he chose preach one Sunday each year. The cost of the building must have been not far from $4000. The church is located at the lower end of the village, near the Somerset Railway station.

The Congregationalists had no regular pastor for thirty-two years. In March, 1837, the Rev. Josiah Tucker became its pastor, and remained here four years and six months. His successors were the following: Cyrus Stone, 1841-4; Henry Smith, 1844-5; Levi Loring, supplied 1845-6; Sidney Smith, 1847-58; W. S. Thompson, supplied 1861-2; George Hathaway, supplied 1862-3; John R. Deering, supplied 1863-5; Henry O. Thayer, supplied 1865-7; John R. Deering, supplied 1867-8; William Wilson, supplied for the last part of the year 1868; Rev. Mr. Fullerton, supplied seven months 1868; William H. ——— supplied one year, commencing in October, 1869; Rev. Mr. Smith, supplied three months in summer of 1871; Rev. Mr. Merrill, same length of time in 1872; Rev. Mr. Craig, summers of 1873-4; Rev. Mr. Chase summer of 1875; Rev. Mr. Roberts, summer 1876; A. H. Thompson, 1878; Rev. Mr. Roberts was the preacher for sixteen Sabbaths in 1879; Albert McLeod, sixteen Sabbaths 1881; Robert Peacock, 1880; Rev. Mr. Williams, twelve Sabbaths in 1882; Rev. Mr. Edwards, supplied 1882-4; T F. Millett, Oct. 1884, Feb. 1, 1890; G. N. Hamilton, two years and three months from 1890; J. C. Gregory, commenced here in 1892 and closed in 1900; George F. Wright, 1900-2; and George H. Richmond who commenced his labors here in June, 1902.

In 1895 the church erected a new building in the central portion of the village, at a cost of about $7,000. This building of beautiful structure stands an ornament to the village. Much credit is due Rev. Mr. Gregory for his efficient service in securing the success of the project of building the new home for the society.

The present membership of the society is sixty-five.

METHODISTS.

The Methodist Society's history at Bingham is largely included in the account of the church at Solon. These two societies were, until recently, under one pastor and the list found under the Solon Methodist Society will apply to this church in general till 1895. The Methodists were part owners in the Union church when built and have continued to occupy it to the present day. Since the seperation in 1895, the pastors have been the following: Joseph Moulton, 1895-7; W. T. Chapman, 1897-8, supplied from Solon; G. H. Hemus, also from Solon, supplied this charge two months.

His term was finished by B. V. Davis. Robert Scott was pastor from 1899 to 1901; the next year this charge was supplied from Solon. In 1902 Rev. Fred McNeil, the present pastor, was stationed here.
